FORBIAN

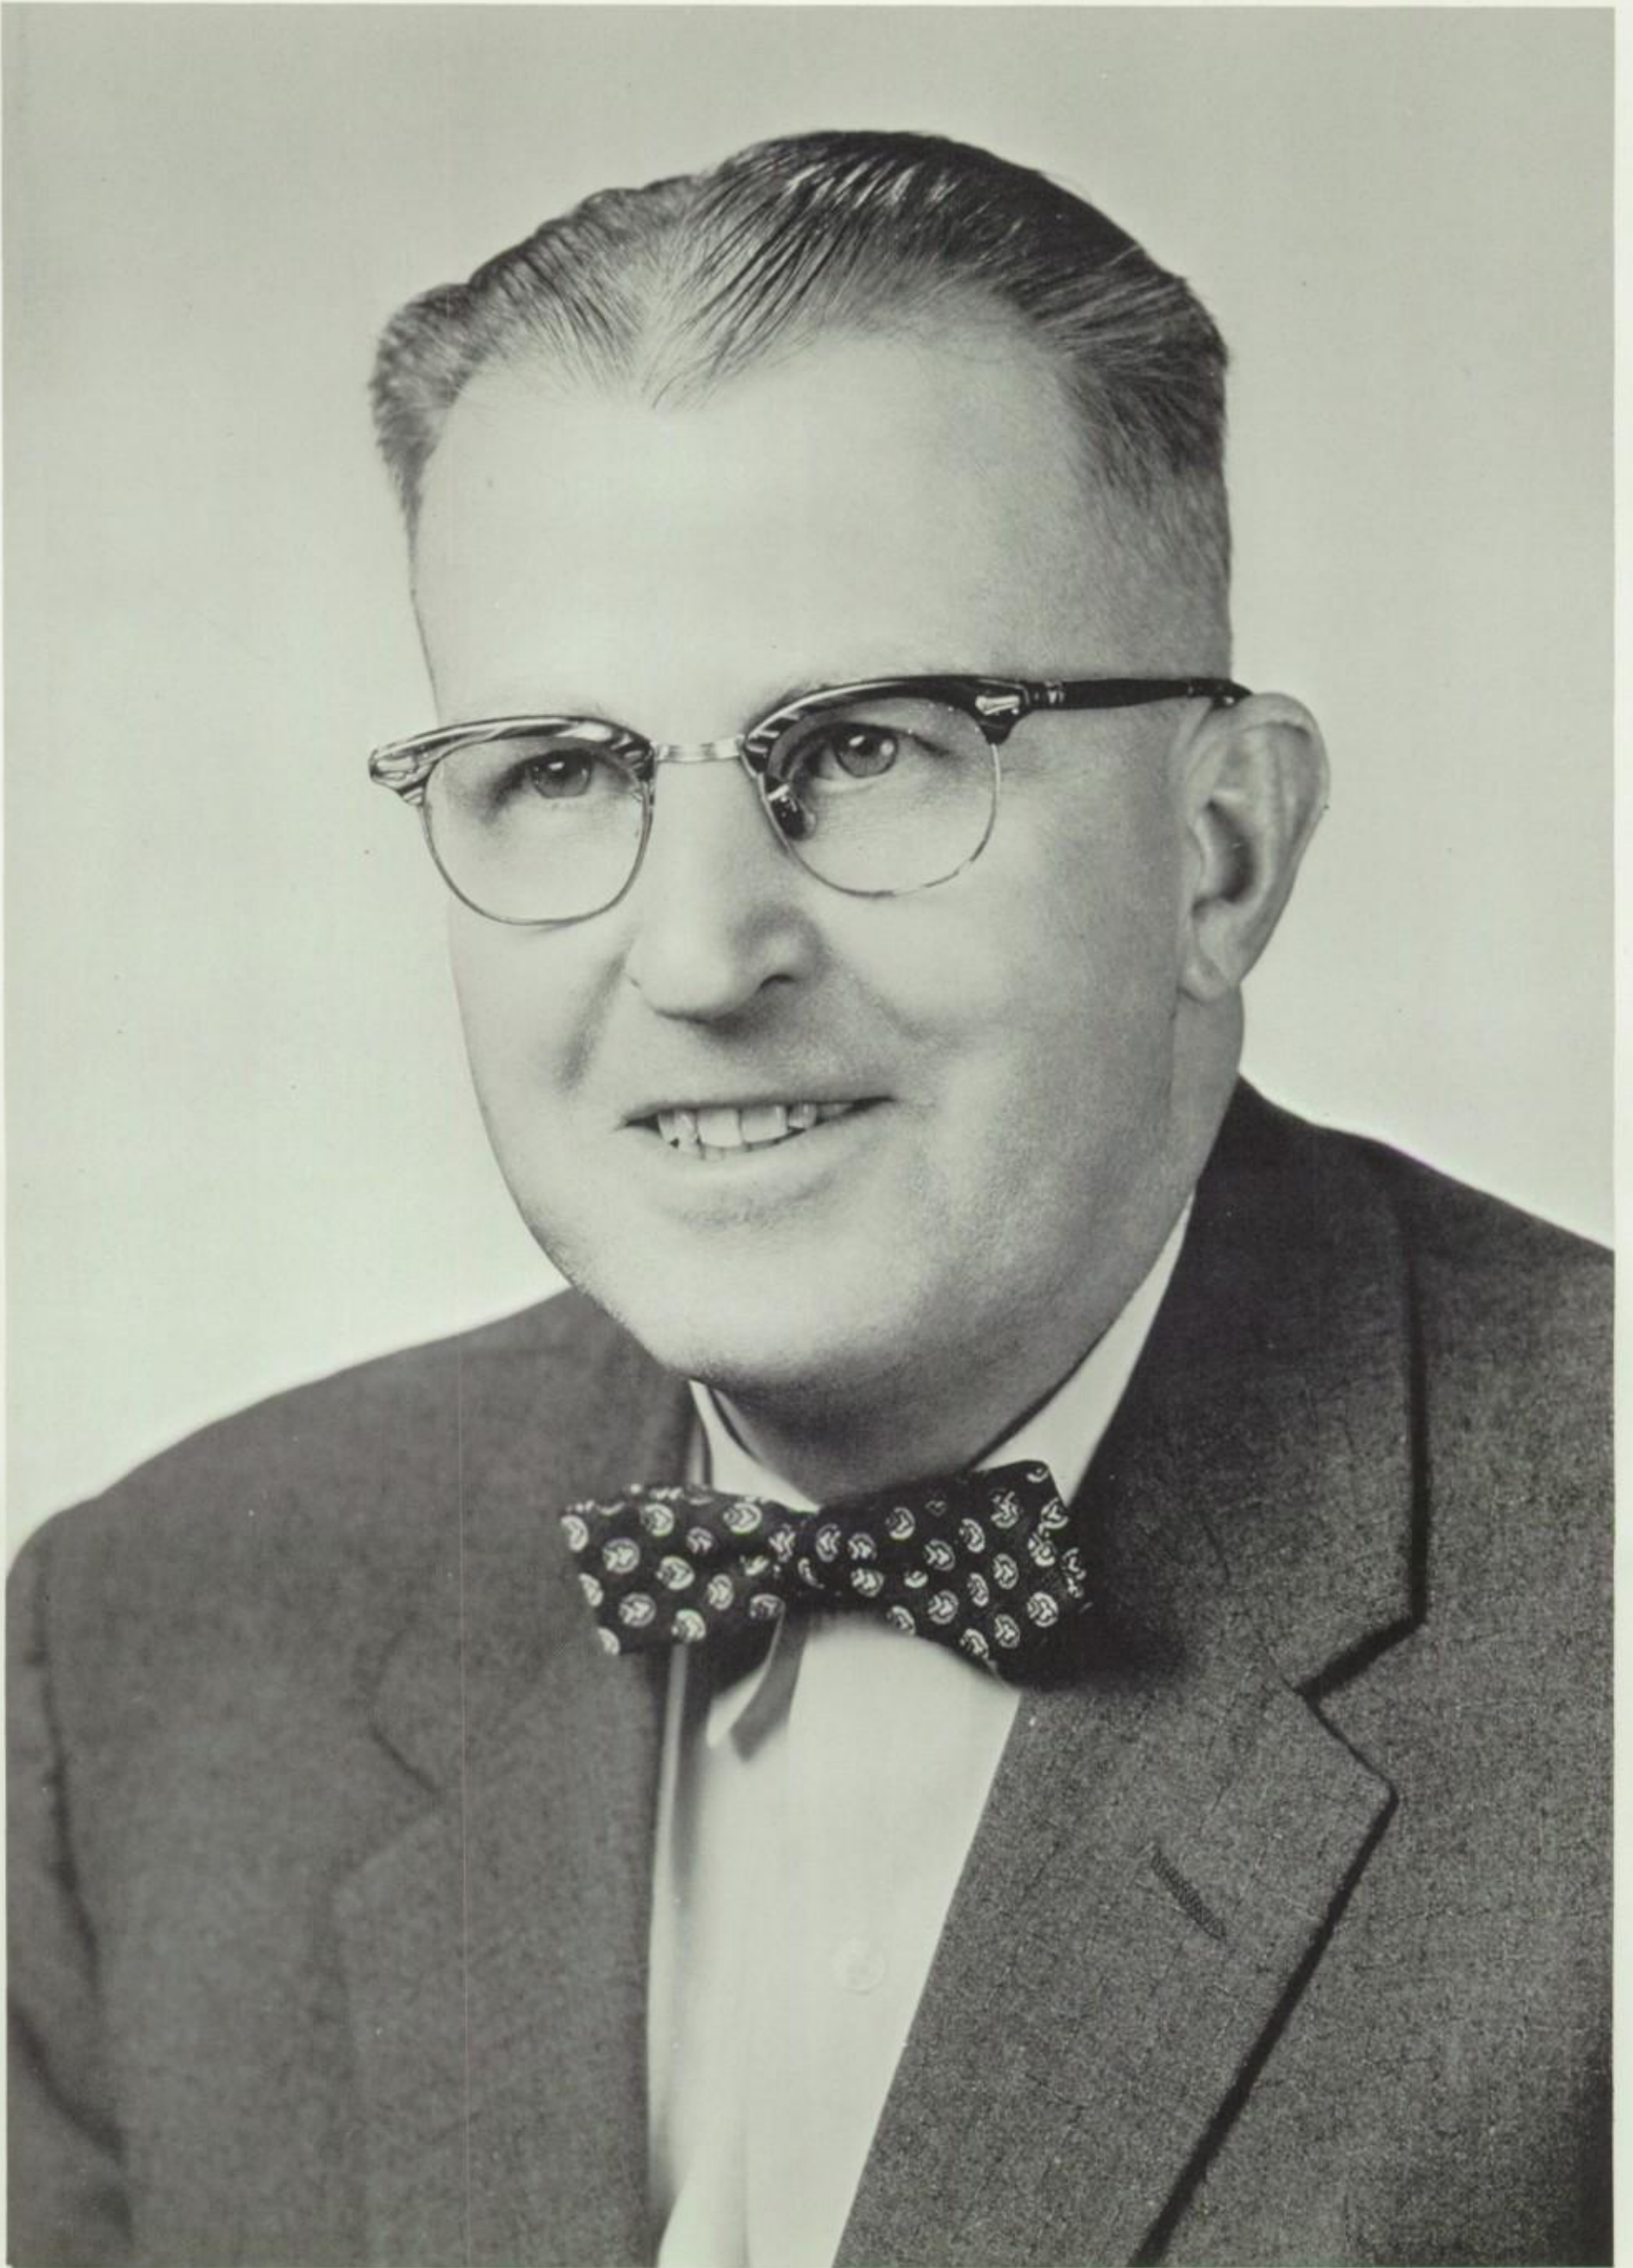

A school is more than a building, . . . more than a faculty and student body . . . more than classes and homework, . . .

Here we receive our beginning, our preparation for the future, . . . And for everything we do, there will be memories; . . .

Memories of friendships and good times, hard work and rewards . . . memories which we hope to keep alive within this yearbook.

DEDICATION

Each teacher, during his career, gives time not only to class work and instruction, but also to extra activities and projects. The Class of '67 is very proud to dedicate this book, as a small token of our appreciation to Mr. John Winters for the untiring service he has rendered to everyone in our school. His many skills are very valuable ones, and he has in his 38 years of teaching shared them generously with all with whom he came in contact. Although we know Mr. Winters' unselfish sharing of his time and talents has certainly not been adequately acknowledged, we hope he will accept this dedication as partial recompense for all he has done for our class and for our school.

A Commitment To Progress

Row 1 Lewis Berkey, Robert Darr, Sam Zimmerman, Mrs. Jane Zimmerman, Non-member, Roy Shaffer, William Williams

Regularly throughout the year, the members of Forbes School Board meet to discuss and plan ways by which to improve and execute the principles of our school system. They are representatives of the various areas of our district and carry out many important functions. They supervise numerous school projects, provide for an administration and faculty and execute our financial business. They merit the praise and recognition of all for their unselfish contribution in making Forbes a school of which we can all be proud.

Sam Zimmerman, Pres., Mrs. Jane Zimmerman, Sec., N.M., Roy Shaffer, V. Pres.

With Their Guidance They Prepared Us

Row 3 Mrs. Susan Sage, Mrs. Lois Litzinger, Mrs. Kathryn Miller, Mrs. Ferne Wentz
 Row 2 Miss Leah Shaffer, Mrs. Lucille Shaver, Harry Bassett, Mrs. Grace Spangler, Miss Evelyn Pyle
 Row 1 Mrs. Sallie Werner, Mrs. Miriam Lease, Miss Rachael Mostoller, Mrs. Freda Custer, Mrs. Louise Longridge, John Mantini

The elementary teachers played an important role in our training. They guided us in our most important years toward the rewarding road of success. They taught us the value of discipline and study which is so important for proper education. They turned our energy into constructive channels which helped to develop our mental and physical abilities. For this start in our school life we are grateful.

Miss Leah Shaffer, Mr. Harry Bassett

ADMINISTRATION

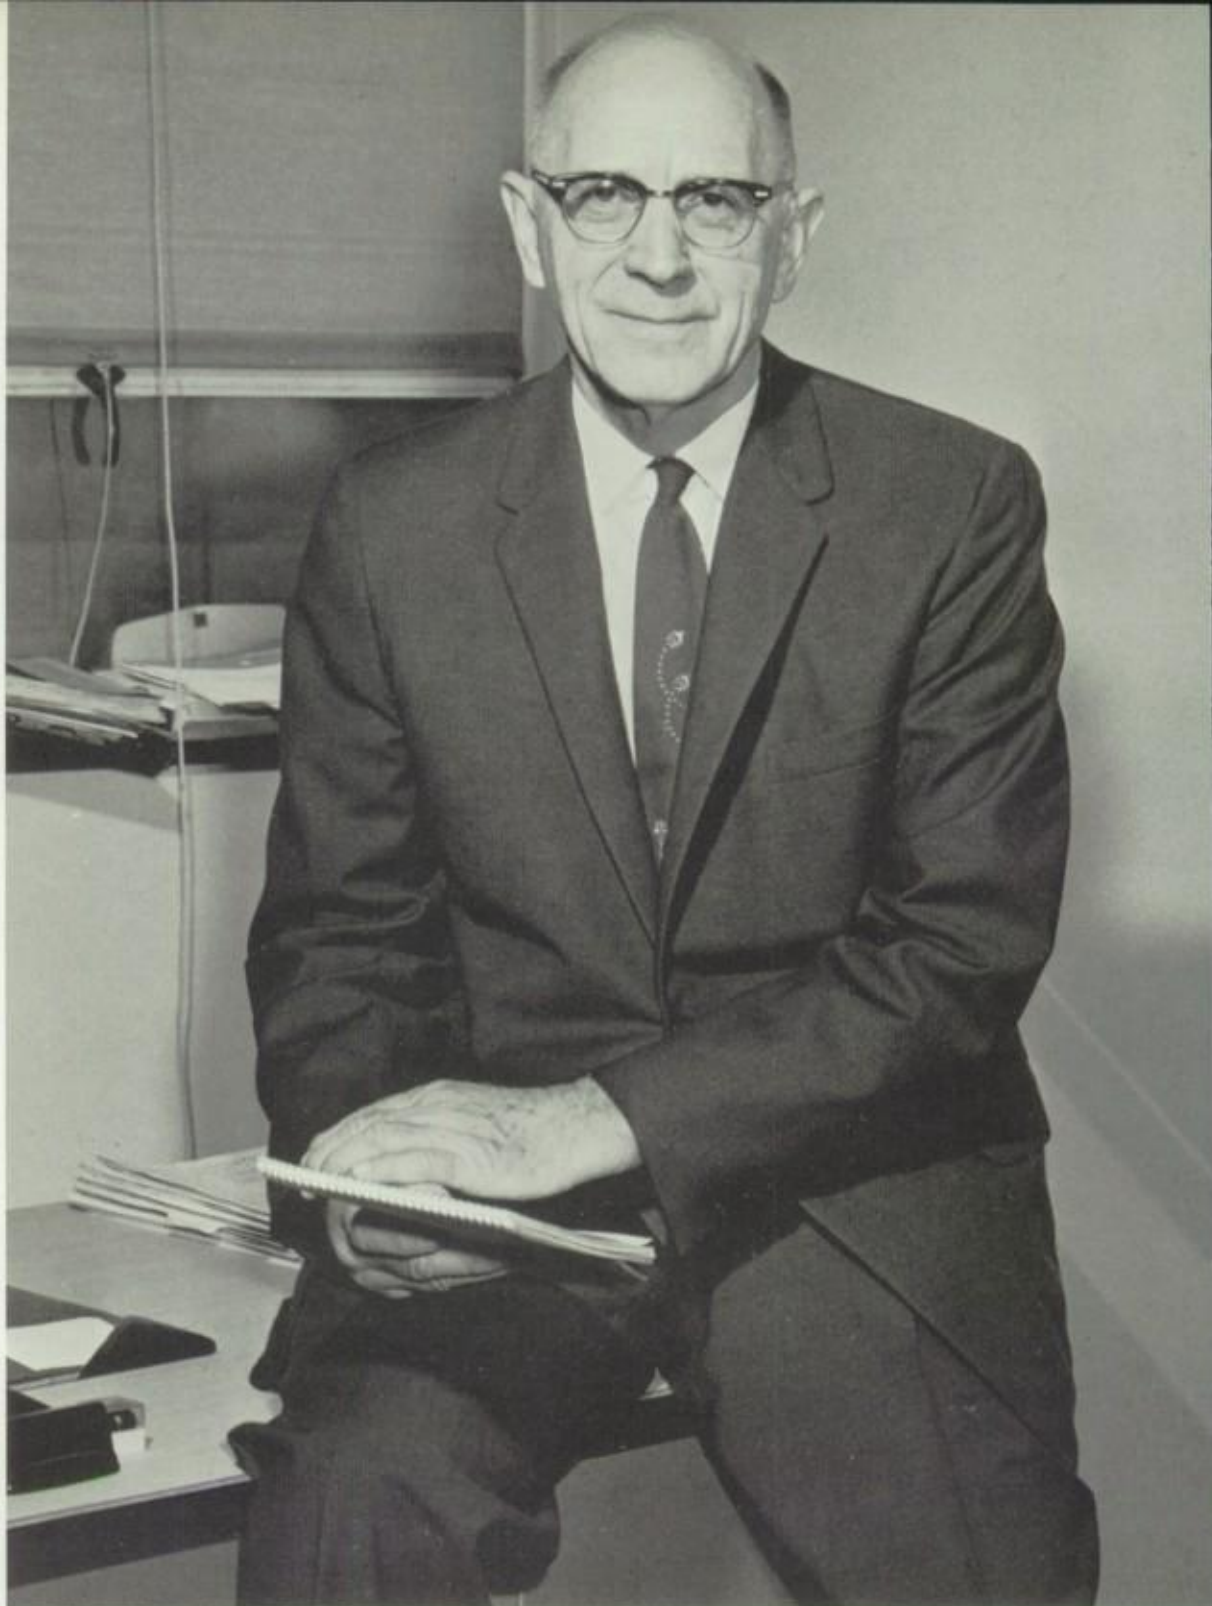

Directors of our school system, . . . Men and women dedicated to building the anxious minds of future generations, . . . Masters in their classrooms, . . . Directors of extra-curricular activities, . . . Individuals to whom we owe our futures.

Mr. David Lichliter, our supervising principal, certainly should be commended for the fine supervision he has given to help make Forbes High School, a school of which we can all be proud.

Because of his pleasant manner, he has become a friend to our student body. Perhaps, because of his interest in our athletic activities, as well as our education, we will always remember his enthusiastic speeches at our pep-rallies. "We, the class of 1967, wish to thank you, Mr. Lichliter, and wish you future happiness and success."

To Miss Sank, our principal, we owe a great deal of gratitude. During our junior high years, when we were rather unsure of ourselves, she was always there to give us that little pep talk that we needed. Through the years she has always encouraged us to develop our education, but even more important than this, she has stressed the necessity of abiding by rules and getting along with other people. We, the class of 1967, wish to thank Miss Sank for her concern for us as individuals, as well as for our education.

Establishing Necessary Support

L-R Mrs. Durelles Meyers, Mrs. Thelma Long, Mrs. Anne Brown

Helping the band to attain certain goals each year is the aim of the Forbes Band Parents. Through various money-making projects, the Band Parents, under the direction of Mr. Meredith Naugle are able to supply the Junior members of the Senior Band with jackets. This, along with other rewards, has helped to make belonging to the band a worthwhile experience.

The Forbes Parent-Teachers Association is a valuable asset to the school. Through this organization a better relationship is formed between the teachers and parents. The President, Mrs. Chester Long, heads the P.T.A. in their monthly meetings. Throughout the years, the P.T.A. with its many activities will continue to provide valuable service to education and the community.

SENIORS '67

Graduation nears, the road to it has been rocky at times and again paved with gold. Friendships that we've acquired seem to grow closer as we begin to realize that each of us will soon go separate ways to the future.

May each Senior take his education with him, using it to its fullest extent and reflecting the knowledge we've acquired in our twelve years at Forbes.

Rick Ott, Chris Zimmerman, Marcia Berkey, Gloria Gastiger

There is a tide in the affairs of men,
 Which taken at the flood, leads on to fortune;
 Omitted, all the voyage of their life
 Is bound in shallows and in miseries:
 On such a full sea are we now afloat,
 And we must take the current when it serves,
 Or lose our ventures.

The Seniors' annual class play was a three act comedy entitled "We Shook the Family Tree," by Hildegard Dolson. The members of the cast and production staff spent much time and effort to present the play. Their efforts were pleasantly rewarded by the success of the comedy and the many favorable comments of the school and community.

Great Performance

"Did you ever see such a lousy trapezius?"

"Where did you get this letter?"

"Hooray! I got em! I got 'em!"

"We'll hold him, run for it."

Memories To Keep

The Class of '67 held its Junior Prom on Friday, May 13, 1966. It was held in the romantic atmosphere of the Tuscany Room at Green Gables. Few decorations were needed in these beautiful surroundings. Floating candles, along with spring flowers and birds, gave more enchantment to the festivities. Music to dance by was provided by the Safaris. The funfilled memories of this enjoyable evening will always be remembered by those who attended.

Now that you have achieved senior high status, you have learned many things about high school. And you know that now is the time to buckle down and study because you have only a few more years of high school remaining. What you do after graduation depends largely on what you do during your next two years of high school. Make them productive years.

Being a ninth grader is a unique experience. Although you are looked up to by the seventh and eighth graders, you are looked down upon by the upper-classmen. This is a period in which hard work combined with fun can gain you the respect of the upper-class as well as that of your classmates.

This is your first year in the high school. It is a very different type of school than that which you have been attending as there are activities and studies. Because you are new to this type of school, you may become alarmed about your possibilities of attaining success. Although it is a large undertaking to advance from a seventh grader to a senior, you will see that if you make an effort success may be achieved.

The Forbes High School Band is one of the most needed organizations of our school. Our director, Mr. Stanley Mish, deserves much recognition for the effort put forth in the guidance of this group.

Long hours of pre-school practice help to perfect half-time shows for football games. The band also helps to enliven spirit and enthusiasm at the games and at pep assemblies. These musicians are then given the opportunity to show their ability at the Spring Concert and at North County Band. The Swing Band, another hard working group, entertains for assemblies and various programs in the community.

The outstanding vocalists of Forbes High are given their chance to excel in the small groups.

The Top Twenty prepares many numbers for the more important events of the year. They perform for many religious programs, the most significant being baccalaureate.

The Senior Forbettes are made up of six girls who have worked hard together during their years at Forbes. This sextet sings for many assemblies and for various programs in the community. They have enjoyed their times together immensely.

The Jetaires consists of eight Senior boys. This male octet sings for various assemblies throughout the year.

The chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Pauline Davis, is one of the best and hardest working organizations in the school. Mrs. Davis deserves much recognition for her dedicated guidance.

This year, with aid from the government, the school purchased an organ and a new piano. These are very much appreciated for assemblies and for the Spring Concert, when these musicians show their talent.

At the head of all the school organizations is the Student Council. Here the students are given a chance to speak out in school government. The Senior Student Council, under the leadership of Mr. Charles Lawson and Mr. Larry Barnhart, heads many activities during each year, including everything from assemblies to dances. This organization is another fine example of the leadership, dependability, and citizenship that characterize Forbes.

A very important and essential organization to the junior high is the Junior High Student Council. The students, through representatives they elect, develop an awareness of responsibility and leadership. Under the direction of two new advisors, Mr. Wallace Berkebile and Mr. Ellsworth Black, this Council also sponsors many activities during our school year. It is here that the younger students are first given the reins of our school government.

Achieving Highest Honors

Service, Leadership, Scholarship, and Character, the four basic ideals of the National Honor Society, are also the basic characteristics of a National Honor Society member. All of these qualities must be present before an individual can be selected as a member. The members of the society are usually active in extra-curricular activities as well as having the better grades in the class.

Selection as a member is one of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon an individual in high school. Members are selected in their junior or senior year of high school.

On March 1, the Forbes Chapter inducted ten seniors into the National Honor Society. They are Brenda Croyle, Linda Datko, Janice DiFrancesco, Linda Geary, Donald Jock, Donna Jock, Virginia Long, Kathy Metzgar, Mary Swintosky, and Christopher Zimmerman.

Each year on the basis of test scores, one student is chosen from the sophomore class to attend Science Seminar throughout his sophomore, junior, and senior years. The Seminar is held at Somerset High School, two Saturdays of each month. The program varies from field trips to interesting lectures on scientific subjects.

Beneficial Service

The Future Teachers of America, under the direction of our new guidance counselor, Mr. Raymond Thomaszewski, is one of our most worthwhile organizations. Each year the F. T. A. sponsors a student teaching day as well as other activities. The aim of the F. T. A. is to provide exploratory experience in the field of teaching for those students who would like to become teachers.

The FNC is another vocational club that helps prepare girls for a future in medicine. Under the supervision of Mrs. Jane Metzgar, the club tours various hospitals and schools of nursing. Several activities, such as health campaigns, are sponsored by this club each year. Various movies on nursing are shown and speakers often lecture to the club members on nursing.

A nurse's aide program has been set up by the FNC in which the members assist the nurse in the health office.

Developing Future Talents

"Welcome to the Forbes Chapter of the Roof Garden Radio Club," are the opening words for each of the club's radio programs on WVSC. The members of the radio club are chosen at the end of each year according to voice quality, reading ability, and various other points. This year the Radio Club was supervised by Mrs. Evelyn Bittner, a temporary advisor for Mrs. Penelope Stahl who returned the second semester.

The Library Club is among the new organizations started this year. Under the guidance of Mrs. Estella Leaf, the school librarian, the members are taught how to process books as well as how to assist in the library. In their spare time any of the girls may come in and take over for Mrs. Leaf. During the school year, they assisted many students in finding needed information in the library. The Library Club was one more step in bettering our library facilities.

Organizations of Value

The Future Homemakers of America is the national organization of girls and boys studying homemaking in high schools of the United States, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. The Forbes F.H.A. chapter is constituted of girls interested in homemaking and activities related to homemaking.

This segment of the F.H.A. Creed will explain the worthwhile purposes of this club. "We are the builders of homes, homes for America's future. Homes where living will be the expression of everything that is good and fair. Homes where truth and love and security and faith will be realities, not dreams."

Providing Additional Encouragement

The Varsity Club is a new organization at Forbes this year. The purpose of the club is to advance all phases of school athletics in the school district with additional emphasis on promoting school spirit and good sportsmanship. The members are athletes with at least one letter in one sport. The group especially hopes to promote activities which will help our school and its athletes in the future.

The Parking Crew, Stage Crew, and Audio-Visual Club are three clubs that Forbes High School depends on greatly at all times. These club members provide endless hours of work for which they get little or no recognition. They render many services and are always available in an emergency.

To these club members we aver our highest and deepest thanks for their well done jobs.

Our gridiron squad for the 1966 season was one of the best in our recent football history. Although their record of 4 wins and 4 losses may not appear too impressive, you must remember that they beat Berlin, one of the toughest teams in the county, and our archrival, Shade.

Leading our ground attack was our fullback, Rick Ott, who gained over 1,000 yards during the course of the season.

The '66 team will long be remembered at Forbes as a great one.

This year our Junior Varsity squad had three encounters with opposing J.V. forces. They won two of these clashes and lost one especially tough one by a single touchdown. The training and skills gained by our J.V.'s this year will be of great value to Mr. Maize in building next year's grid squad.

"The Team To Beat"

The 1966-67 varsity cagers have proved to be one of our greatest squads. Under the extremely capable guidance of our coach, Mr. Jack Dickey, the team has turned in a very respectable record. For most of our fans, the highpoint of this season was our victory over Berlin on the Mountaineers home court. In spite of mistakes and bad luck, our team was one of the most feared in our league. Just as we will remember this team as one of our finest entries in recent years, our opponents will remember it as "the team to beat."

Under the watchful eye and guiding hand of their talented coach, Al Page, our J.V.s' have turned in one of the finest seasons in our J.V. history. Most Forbians feel that this fine job by the J.V.s' points up a continuation of good teams at Forbes.

The Forbes High School Baseball team provided some surprises this year. With a 1-6 record last year, this year's season did not look promising. But under Coach Dickey's invaluable coaching, the team worked hard and determined to have a good season. At the end of the season, the team had compiled a 6-1 record which was good enough to give Forbes the Somerset County Baseball Championship. The squad will long be remembered as a great comeback team.

Improvement has been the key word for girls' basketball team as they enter their fifth season of the game. Each year has seen the girls' victories increase and their skill improve. Along with developing their ability to play, every girl on the team has augmented the reputation of fair play and fine sportsmanship they've acquired over the five years. We're sure the girls will carry the ball to victory many more times in the year ahead.

The only way to victory is through active school spirit, and the only way our team can have this is through support. This is exactly what our cheerleaders do. They stimulate the student body, through their own pep and invigoration, to have school spirit, not only when we win but also when we lose. However, this doesn't begin and end with the game. It is continuous and is possible only through their enthusiastic work and practice. The result is school spirit—on which hinges success.

Each year the students and faculty reserve one weekend, during which we hold Maroon and White Day in observance of our school colors and to stimulate our school spirit. An assembly program, a bonfire, a football game, and a dance highlight the weekend festivities. This year more students and faculty members dressed in our colors than previous years. The royal couples are selected from the student body and crowned at the dance, which closes a fondly remembered weekend for all.

The Class of 67 is graduating with an awareness of the fine education we have received at Forbes. The staff hopes they have retained many memories of this school year for the Seniors and others reviewing this our final project, the Forbian.

Now we leave each to our own destination.
